David and Goliath — AI Video Prompts

32 shots for a realistic AI video, with dialogue from the King James Bible (1 Samuel 17)

How to use

- Each shot is one clip of about 8 seconds. 32 clips make a film of about 4–5 minutes.
- Use an AI video app that makes realistic clips with spoken dialogue, such as Google Veo or Kling.
- For each clip, paste the STYLE block, then the description of each character on the shot's Cast line, then the shot prompt.
- If the app accepts a reference image, make one portrait of David and one of Goliath first and attach them to every clip. This keeps their faces the same.
- Make 2–3 versions of each clip and keep the best one.
- Join the clips in order in CapCut or InShot, and add music there.
- If the app refuses a battle shot, cut to the soldiers' faces watching instead.
